Sensitively Managing Change in the Historic Environment

Where heritage assets may be affected by a proposal, Planning Statements, Design and Access Statements and/or Heritage Statements will be expected to demonstrate:

- a. An identification and assessment of heritage assets, including an assessment and description of their significance, and the contribution of their setting;
- b. How this information has been used to inform proposals that sustain and enhance the historic environment and, where relevant, minimise and mitigate harm; and
- c. That new development responds positively to local historic character and conserves, and where appropriate enhances, the significance of heritage assets.
